A Tale of Two Cases

PsychRights v. Matsutani

- 30+ Defendants
- Ignored Susan Stefan's Excellent Advice Not to Name So many
- 9th Circuit in non-precedential Disposition: The government knows all about the fraud and doesn't care so why should we?

Watson v. King Vassel

- Brought by Dr. Toby Watson, Wisconsin Psychologist
 - Former Exec. Director of International Society for Ethical Psychology & Psychiatry
- 7th Circuit:
Psychiatrists Knowingly Cause False Claims When Prescribing Off-Label to Medicaid Patient not supported by Any Compendia
- Won in trial court on Public Disclosure Bar Issue Lost in 9th Circuit

Matsutani (9th Cir)

Relators' suit is "based upon" . . . prior public disclosure." "[T]he evidence and information in the possession of the United States at the time the False Claims Act suit was brought was sufficient to enable it adequately to investigate the case and to make a decision whether to prosecute." The Medicaid records relators obtained from their Alaskan FOIA requests already were required by statute to be supplied to the federal government. . . . [U]nlike in ex rel. Baltazar relators here haven't provided "vital facts that were not in the public domain."

Matsutani* (Continued)

“Relators’ suit concerns ongoing conduct, not specific and discrete time periods The public disclosure bar thus applies here to all claims at issue, including those made after the relevant disclosures.”

Matsutani (Continued)

“This disposition is not appropriate for publication and is not precedent except as provided by 9th Cir. R. 36-3.”

9th Cir. R. 36-3(a):

(a) Not Precedent. Unpublished dispositions and orders of this Court are not precedent, except when relevant under the doctrine of law of the case or rules of claim preclusion or issue preclusion.

Ex rel. Watson (7th Cir.)

“Under the applicable interlocking provisions of the False Claims Act and laws governing Medicaid, the federal government generally will not pay for medications prescribed for purposes not approved by the FDA or “supported” by any of several pharmaceutical reference books (called “compendia”).”

“Because there were no indications that were supported for certain drugs for any patient of N.B.’s age, Watson argues, the prescriptions to N.B. must not have been for a medically accepted indication. This analysis, says Watson, would not require the assistance of an expert. We agree.”

“A reasonable jury could plausibly interpret the evidence Watson assembled to show that King-Vassel recklessly disregarded the fact that N.B. received Medicaid assistance, and that claims for payment for his prescriptions would be submitted to Medicaid.”

“[A]bsent some affirmative evidence that King-Vassel’s prescriptions did not cause a claim to be filed, Watson should have been able to rely on traditional, time-tested notions of causation . . . we do not think a jury needs expert testimony to understand that writing a prescription to a person insured by Medicaid will likely cause a claim to be filed with Medicaid.”

7th Circuit

- Perpetrator and False Claim(s) Must be Publicly Disclosed to Trigger Public Disclosure Bar. ex rel. Baltazar, 635 F.3d 866 (2011)(2011)
- Off-Label prescription for a use not “supported” by compendia presented to Medicaid is a False Claim. ex rel. Watson (2013)
- Prescriber Causes False Claim by Writing Such Prescription. Id.
- Prescriber charged with “knowingly” causing claim within meaning of False Claims Act if Knows Medicaid Patient, Absent Evidence to Contrary. Id.

The Circuits

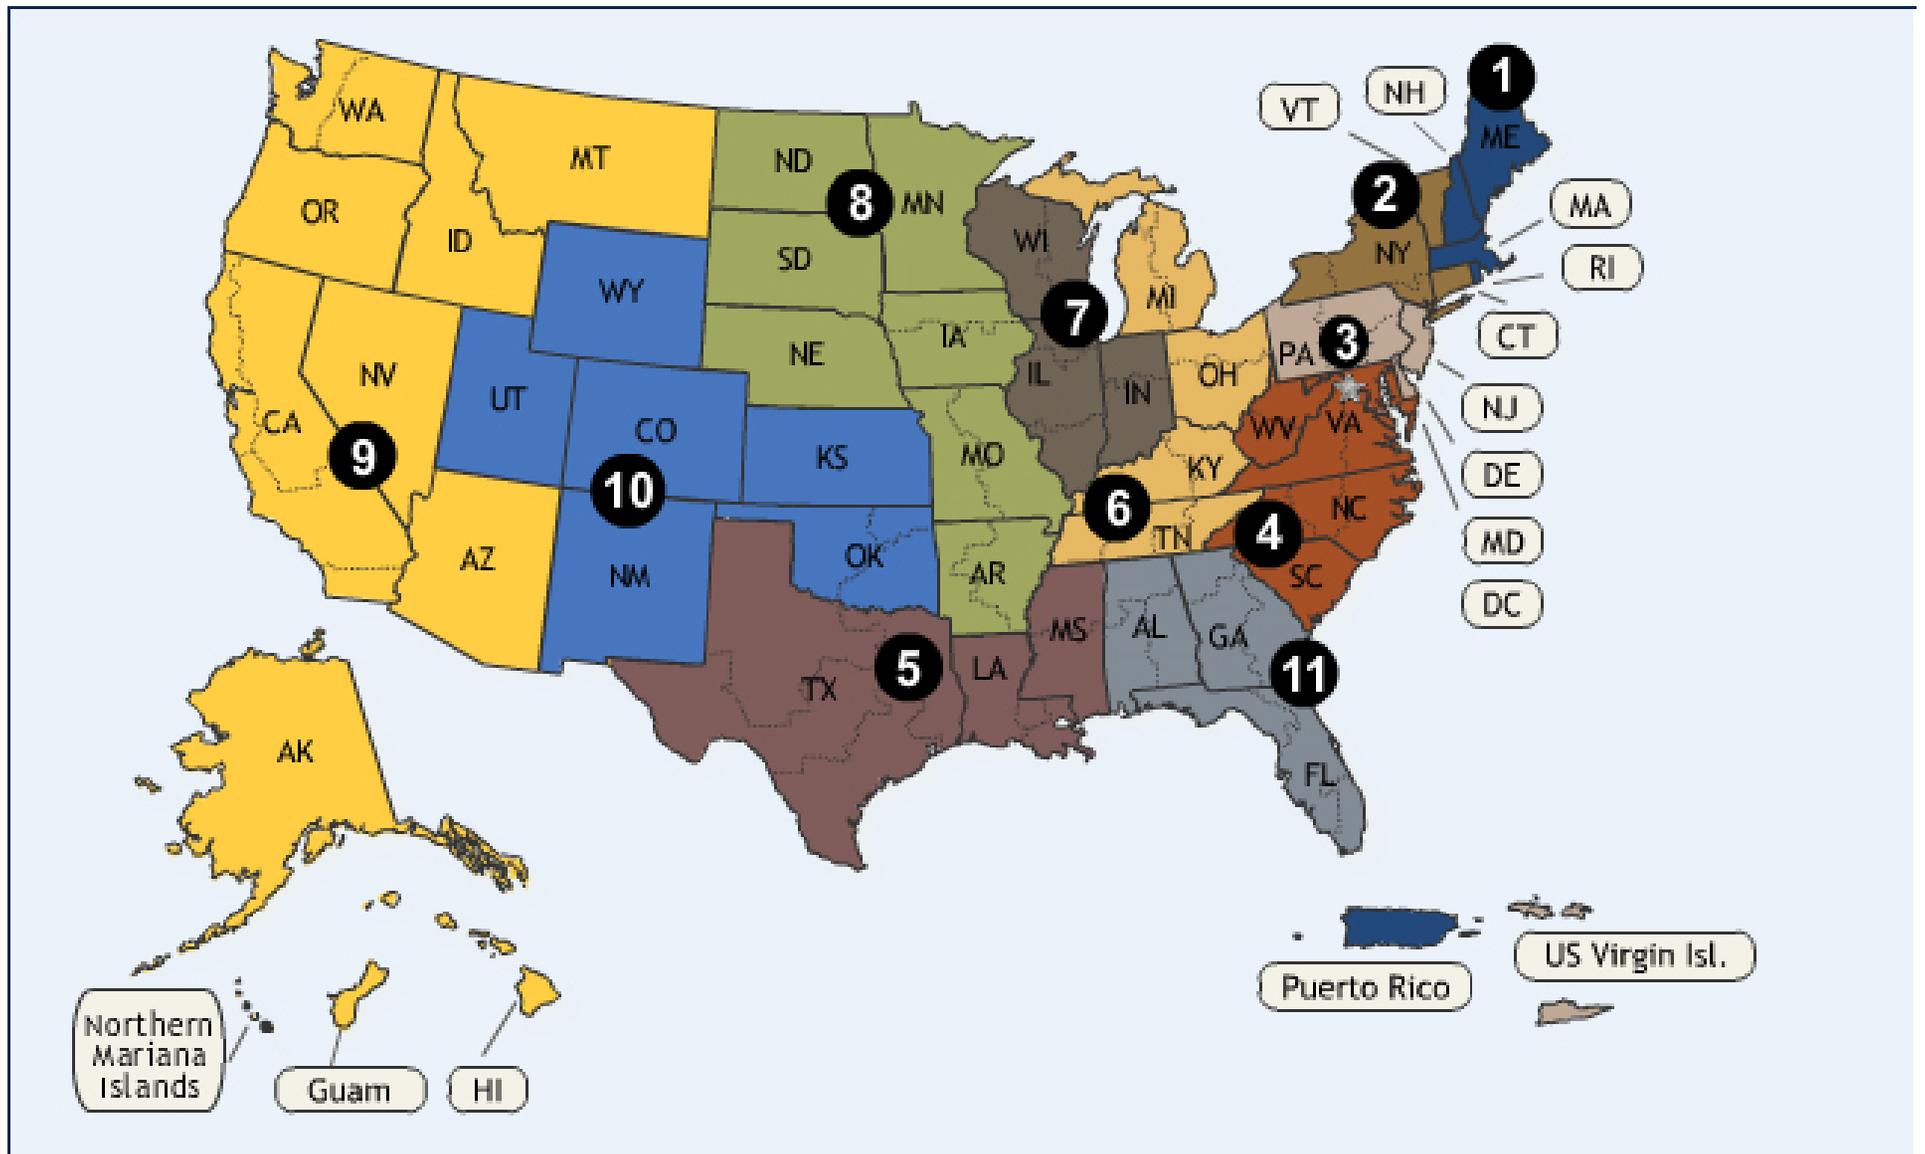

- 9th Circuit – Immunized Walmart (unless Govt. objects)?
- 7th Circuit -- Good
- 1st Circuit – Best for Pharmacies?
- Others?

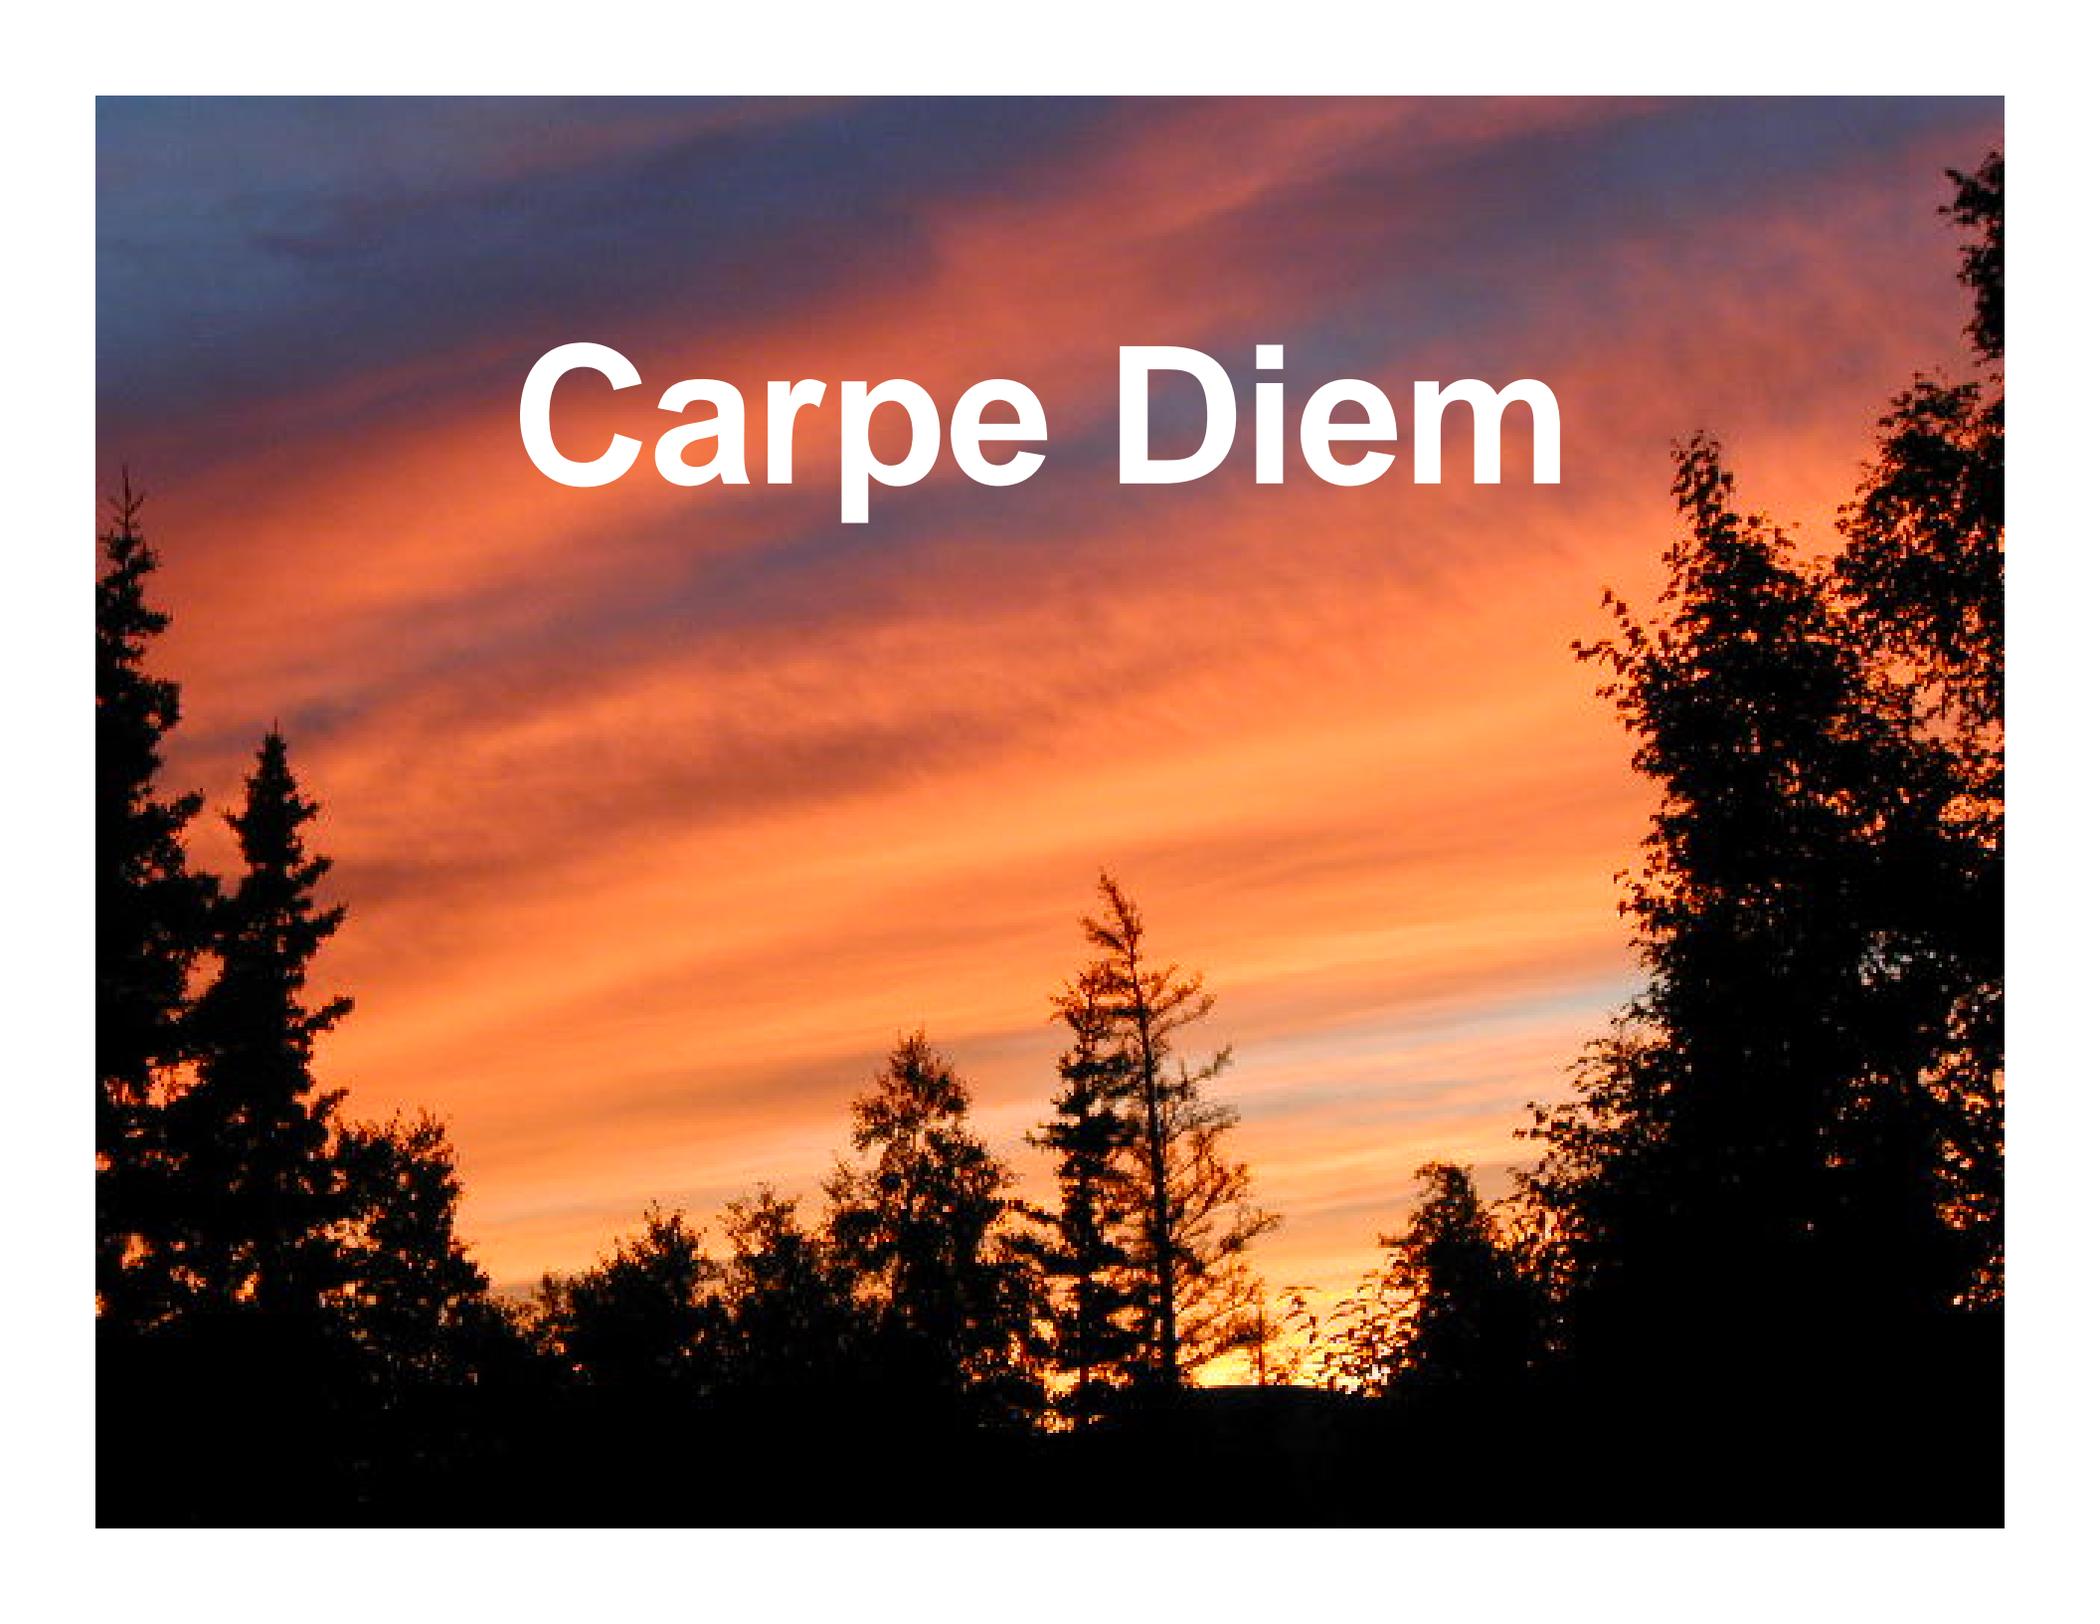

Let's Do Some Cases!!!

- Our Children's Lives Depend On It.
- Could Raise substantial funding for alternatives and legal representation
 - Big Pharmacy Hard, but could be Serious Money
